KINGSLEY PRIMARY SCHOOL

CURRICULUM POLICY

Rationale

At Kingsley Primary School, we have developed a bespoke curriculum which meets the needs of all our children and equips them with the skills and knowledge for their future learning.

Underpinning our curriculum is the belief that children only get one chance at primary schooling. It is our duty to provide the very best. We believe that rapid and sustained pupil progress is the outcome of continuously good teaching and learning and that every child has the right to be taught well and, as a result, develops a thirst for learning. We aim for every child in our school to make outstanding progress, whatever his or her starting point. We believe our school must be a welcoming, safe and vibrant place if our children are to learn effectively.

How topics and subject areas are taught has been carefully chosen by all staff to meet the needs and interests of the children. These are constantly reviewed and adapted, where required. Planning is flexible and ongoing assessments inform future planning.

We have a core belief at Kingsley that all children should experience a broad and balanced curriculum through first-hand experiences such as trips and activities to enrich and enhance the curriculum. These are subsidised by the school to enable all children to participate. Our aim is to provide a rich and creative curriculum where children build resilience, perseverance and an enjoyment for learning.

Curriculum content for any given year group can be found on the school website and termly curriculum jigsaws are sent home for parents.

Aims of the Curriculum

Curriculum Organisation

In Nursery and Reception the curriculum is organised according to the development matters of the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS). Pupils experience a range of adult or child initiated activities throughout the day including phonics and number work. Learning is organised through themes and topics which are shared across the EYFS.

In Key Staff 1 pupils experience more formal teaching. Pupils participate in daily phonics lessons, which are additional to daily English and mathematics lessons. When appropriate most other National Curriculum subjects are delivered through a bespoke curriculum either through an overall theme or topic each term or a focused specific skill lesson.

Similarly in Key Stage 2 children are taught daily English and mathematics lessons. Where appropriate, this is linked to an overall theme or topic which links other subjects together to help make learning engaging and relevant and to promote the development of key skills and knowledge across the whole curriculum.

IT is embedded throughout all subjects using computers, ipad, kindles, laptops etc.

RE is taught following the Hartlepool Agreed Syllabus for Religious Education.

Planning takes into account individual progress through whole class high quality teaching wherever possible. Planning is directly linked to prior assessments and learning through detailed daily formative assessments. During lessons changes may be made from assessments. (See Feedback policy)

Having identified those who are under achieving or who are at risk of doing so, the school strives to ensure that gaps in skills, knowledge and understanding are identified and closed. This is completed through the use of a variety of targeted interventions delivered by leadership members, teachers and teaching assistants. This is rigorously monitored and evaluated by specific members of the Leadership team (e.g. Team leaders, coordinators, SENDCO, Pupil Premium).
